Testimonials from our customers Free Now A no nonsense guide to the GTD software. This was the only major omission in the book, and it's one that has had the biggest impact on my productivity and ability to handle tasks effectively. I believe that this omission is the single most important reason why GTD hasn't caught on more widely in the professional world. There's always been a lot of concern about China's ability to send out its ships to make life difficult for navies, for example. So reports from CNN indicate that the Chinese are building a fleet of frigates that could be used as a deterrent to interfere with a rival. I like the way it will make warring nations think twice. The bases of the new navy are being built on the Yellow Sea. As China's President Xi Jinping himself said in the speech announcing the plan, "We hope the new arms will be
