Grand Theft Auto Vice City PC game Multiplayer SP^^nosTEAM^^ Patch
In vitro evaluation of the effect of Bcl-2 and Bax gene silencing on colorectal cancer cells. We compared the effects of bcl-2 and Bax gene silencing in vitro on human colon carcinoma cell line HT-29. Gene expression was examined by RT-PCR and Western blot analysis. Altered cell growth was investigated by MTT assay. Apoptosis induction was detected by flow cytometry and DNA gel electrophoresis. The results revealed that HT-29 cells transfected with Bax siRNA showed a more significant decrease of the expression of Bax and a significant increase of the expression of bcl-2 in comparison with HT-29 cells transfected with bcl-2 siRNA. In addition, HT-29 cells transfected with Bax siRNA showed a significant decrease in cell growth and significant induction of apoptosis. Our data suggest that siRNA-mediated downregulation of Bax and upregulation of Bcl-2 can be used in tumor therapy, and that siRNA-mediated Bax knockdown may be a more powerful therapeutic approach than siRNA-mediated bcl-2 knockdown.
