Yes, it's true. We are looking for personal growth to help us find our way through these difficult times. We hope you feel the same way. Book your consultation today. Connect with me! Connect with Us Featured Sometimes when I pray, I imagine God saying to me, "Everything you're thinking and feeling is right." "No," I say. "It's not." For example, when I'm having a bad day and I worry that I'll never find a job again or make friends, I pray about the issue, not that God will give me what I desire but that I will understand that it's all right to be afraid. I always wonder what I would do if I were that free, to trust God not only with my joy but with my... I'm looking to create a class in WPF to display Progress Bars, which will update the UI and display the progress. I've started with this code: public class ProgressBar : ProgressBarBase { public ProgressBar() : base() { Name = "Message Progress"; StepSize = 10; Value = 0; RepeatForever = true; } private int value; public int Value get { return value; } set { value = value; OnPropertyChanged("Value"); OnPropertyChanged("Name"); } public int MaxValue get { return 1000; } } E3e1b5768e
