The screenshot shows a file sharing interface. On the left, there is a blue folder icon with a cloud inside. Below it, a rating of 6.4 is shown with five stars and '2885 VIEWS'. A blue 'Download' button with a download icon is present. To the right, text indicates 'File was found and ready to download!' and 'UPDATED 14 HOURS AGO'. Below this, it says 'Fastest Source: usenet.nl'. A note below that says 'Click the download button and select one of the found cloud sources.' At the bottom right, there is a 'SECURE SCANNED' badge. At the bottom of the interface, there are three icons with labels: 'Navigation' (a list icon), 'Registration' (a group of people icon), and 'FAQ' (a lifebuoy icon). A message at the bottom says 'You need to log in before you can post comments.'

When you look at what's going on with the transport in the US and Europe, it's a bit frightening to see how many people are being killed by an "invisible killer" car accident. I am thinking of deaths due to carbon monoxide poisoning. And what you say about the laws are very interesting. It would be very bad if a person could sue the government for it. One thing I think is important to understand is that driving is not exceptionally dangerous. The statistics on the relative risks of many dangerous occupations is horrifying. Every day more people die in front of video games, drinking, and all sorts of other things than they do from car accidents. ~~~ chris_wot Yes, because you are used to killing yourself daily on the computer keyboard. ----- wml You should try a combo of these: \- Restrict access to hospitals for uninsured drivers. \- Restrict the number of passengers. \- Treat drunk drivers like terrorists (if the driver has no insurance, they can't be treated like anyone else) ~~~ eli You don't need a car to get yourself to a hospital and not endanger others. And it's clear that drunk driving is a real public safety issue. But it's also clear that getting any of these ideas implemented 2d92ce491b
