Category:Windows 10 Category:Windows 7COMING UP More of the Great Value CD & DVD Ordering Event is coming up this week! Next Tuesday, we are adding a LOT more products to the Great Value selection to take advantage of our big discount pricing on the Clearance products, so if you are not already signed up for the Clearance Event, you need to hurry up and get signed up before this huge discount event ends. I am very excited about the great range of products that will be added to our Clearance Event. You can see this week's clearance products by clicking on the link below. The links are set to expire at 12:00am CT, Monday, August 1, 2018, so you need to hurry up and sign up before they do. How to get Great Value Discounts on the Clearance Products The Great Value Clearance Event was a huge success last week, with over $8,000 worth of products sold and over 50% off our existing clearance price. This week, we are continuing our Clearance Event by adding a huge range of products to the Great Value lineup, and I am excited to share with you the new line up of products we are adding to this year's event. This week's event is adding a LOT more products that are just waiting for you to sign up for our Clearance Event. The links that will expire at 12:00am CT, Monday, August 1, 2018, are: * This discount is for the Great Value Clearance products only. * You can use this discount only once on one purchase during the Clearance Event. * If you already have Great Value clearance products on your cart, you can apply this discount to any clearance products in your cart. Great Value Clearance Event FAQs If you don't already have a clearance account, please sign up for one here. Our clearance events tend to sell out very quickly, so if you don't get to participate in the event this week, please make sure you sign up as soon as possible. Once we run out of Clearance products, we are not selling those products again. So, if you have been waiting for one of the items that are sold out, you need to hurry and get on the waiting list. If you don't sign up for the event before it runs out, you won't get access to those items anymore
