Google WebAccelerator. This Web accelerator is based on a modified version of . Now, you can proxy for your whole network and everyone's happy. Although it is not standardized, the browser send two requests when you choose to use it. The first (SUB1 in) is sent just before you select the accelerator and it carries the URL. The second request (SUB2 in) is sent when you click on the accelerator. The value you should provide is 1. This research was performed for Smart Browsers, a division of AltaVista. If you have feedback, I would love to hear your feedback, below. I use Win XP with IE 8. On previous versions of Aircrack I could not use the Websites I read that the problem was that the browser had a problem with the accelerators. They tried to repair it by disabling the Accelerator App and it worked well. Now I try to use it again and I cannot use them. They are grayed out but when I click on them nothing happens! I read that I have to download a new version of the Accelerator but I can't find it. Can you please help me? If I can't use it I'm lost. Thanks in advance and sorry for my poor english A: Google Web Accelerator will work on browsers that support Client Hints. Client Hints is an official add-on for Google Chrome. How does Google Web Accelerator work? Google Web Accelerator works by injecting a certain kind of JavaScript to the page. The JavaScript will read the browser window and user agent and then compare it to the specs for the Google Web Accelerator add-on. In the case you are on Windows it will look like this: window.navigator.__proto__.__proto__.__proto__.__proto__.__proto__
