Best regards,Daniel John Vaughan That was the best answer I have ever received from anyone. You did it again DanielJohnVaughan and thank you again. I really did not know whether to go through with the activation just yet. You told me not to miss a chance for such a great guidance. I activated it right away. It looked like a miracle that all the errors in my code were solved, now I even don't have to repeat the settings of my project. I appreciate your assistance in the matter. Thanks again for you were the best guide ever. To Be Continued... Best regards,William Morrison Hello from Taiwan, Thanks very much for your kind information. I want to have a couple of details for you. Can you tell me, how can i check the serial number without installation? I spent some time to search, but not find where is the serial number are. Is it possible to retrieve the serial number on the fly when i scan or use the VirtualGrid Manager, even when the device is on and running. And then, I am sure that it is not a Mfg. original. If it is not a Mfg. original, then what is the purpose of keep up the registration? Can you help me to solve the problem? Thanks very much, Mr. Tian. I can't help you with the password. It is a Window's application. Best regards, Daniel John Vaughan Original Post Hello, I recently bought a Virtualgrid VRMesh Studio, to create my own VirtualGrid, my laptop is Windows 7/Vista x64. I am not a power user, so my questions will be easy to answer. 1) How do i load the software? I did not understand how to load it from the usb drive. 2) Is there a program(s) that i can use to transfer any artwork to the VirtualGrid (make a copy of a movie, save it on a usb drive)? I did check the internet and can find only the phrase "Download VirtualGrid". Hello everyone, I have a problem with my VirtualGrid, it always say when i run VirtualGrid manager, A vital error occured. I try to fix this problem like all of the videos on youtube, but it does not help. I use my Prolink PC50-40TU
