When I created the slide in 2003, I could choose.slk as file type. But in Powerpoint 2013, the only file type was.slide. How can I continue to use.slk file type with the newly created slides? A: I think you are using PowerPoint 2013, which use the.slide format. According to the information from On the Open tab, in the Save as type list, choose PowerPoint 2003 Mac .ppt file, and then click Open or Save. So if you want to open your file you may use any.slide format file, but if you want to save it, you have to choose Powerpoint 2003 Mac.ppt You can change the file type from the File tab: Or from Options: very personal sense, the whole subject
