A: There's no Cydia way to do it yet. There are lots of methods to jailbreak iOS 4.2.1. To be honest the safe bet is to use the free and easy iOS 4.2.1 unlocker available on the web. If you have access to a Mac, a laptop or iMac, you can boot into the iPad/iPhone's DFU mode. To do that, first plug it into your computer's USB port. Press the Home/Volume Up/Power buttons until you hear it say

"Connected to iTunes" and then connect your iPhone to iTunes. The iPad will immediately sync with iTunes, at which point you'll be prompted to "Turn off this iPhone". Press the button, unplug your iPad, turn it back on and you'll be at a point where it can be used normally. You can now jailbreak it using Redsn0w or Sn0wbreeze. If you have root access through an SSH connection, you can also jailbreak the iPad. This video is a great walk-through and there are lots of videos on Youtube that cover everything from details about the method (including reasons why you don't want to use it) to explanations of the jailbreak process. Q: Javascript: Tied class off keydown, and uncorked on focus? I have a typeahead control on a select box. In an IE6 compatible version I want to only allow suggestions to be typed in once per keystroke, and the keystroke to uncork once focus has been moved off of the select box. Here is the code for the

---

---

input box:

and patching. F.C.E.
365 Firmware

useful application to free your device or unlock iCloud lock.

You can easily check if your device is already jailbroken or not, use iCloud lock or check the bootloader status. The toolbox includes many interesting functions that are easy to use. The application allows you to mount your device's IPSW using a ramdisk module and access various files, such as the IPSW's original and modified DMGs. You can install a patch by creating a patch bundle and using a random seed to create a patch. Additionally, this toolbox is not considered to be a ransomware and does not work like one. You can easily remove the script files that it contains.

---

---

Thank You. A: You need to download a

Xcode update and use the new command line tool sysdig. You'll need to find your iOS device and input a command like this:

sysdig -p
/path/to/ipsw/folder
-s -p
/path/to/ipsw/folder

will prompt you for

---

the location of the device's IPSW, -s tells sysdig to download the file to the computer. Your device's firmware is in that IPSW. You can leave off -s at the end if you just want to download the firmware. You'll then need to use

---

sysdig -p
/path/to/ipsw/folder
-c to watch the
complete system activity. There's some documentation
on sysdig at A: Sysdig ( is an open-
source tool that allows you to see all
your system activity.
The generic steps to

---

view system logs is:
1) Uninstall sysdig
on your iOS device
using Apple Configurator. 2)
